EFFECTS OF COCAINE

Fascinating at First, but the
Craving Causes Intense
Agony.

"There is no drug so fascinating in its perfect relief of discomfort, fatigue, mental worry and sense of exhaustion as cocaine," says the Medical Record. "The impression which follows from its use is that of renewed vigor and unusual capacity, as if some new force had been added."

"The first after effects following the withdrawal are of short duration and not especially painful. The pain takes on a mental activity, a species of irritative melancholia and profound exhaustion which seek relief at all times and under any circumstances."

"Nature seems to protest against the physical and psychic injury done in the most alarming way. This is seen in the facial agony of the cocaine taker when deprived of the drug. His sufferings are internal and are not seen in muscular excitement. The profound change that follows its use in the quiet face, serene satisfaction and perfect relief is evidence of its effects."

"There appears to be a more pronounced susceptibility to this drug than to alcohol or opium. Very few cases are found in which the effects are unpleasant. Many persons become alarmed when they discover its tremendous fascinating effects and make great efforts to escape. In their efforts to accomplish this they turn to morphine spirits and other drugs."

"A great many cocaine takers in this country are poisoned by spirits and drugs and are exhausted before cocaine is taken, and the relief which this brings them is a new experience, increasing the degeneration. Cocaine addiction can be concealed for some time, hence its peculiar danger."

"Druggists, physicians and patent medicines are responsible for this new scourge of humanity. The remedy is to stop its sale, except for some specific purpose, to be noted on a public book, and where a doctor uses it freely there must be some accounting so as to prevent its danger."

"Drinks served from the soda fountain containing cocaine are attracting increased attention by the sudden popularity and enormous sale in certain sections. When the fact is ascertained that their chief value consists in cocaine in small quantities efforts to suppress them are both difficult and doubtful. The proprietors by merely changing the names can continue the use, and if the soda fountain dealers refuse to dispense them they are frequently sold direct to the customers."

Missouri's Presidential Candidate.

The ovation tendered to former Governor Folk at the notable gathering of his friends and admirers held at the Southern Hotel last night constituted a distinctly significant personal compliment. It was evidence of the fact that a considerable and influential body of his fellow-citizens continue to regard the guest they assembled to honor as an exponent of important civic principles having a present and vital interest for this community.

Missourians feel a proper and justifiable pride in the long roster of distinguished sons who reflect so much luster upon their State, and yesterday's compliment to Mr. Folk will be the occasion of gratification to many thousands who are not yet prepared to march under the "Folk for President" banner or even ready to join in the designation of anyone of the State's available candidates as the Missouri choice for the highest office in the gift of the American people. More than two years remain before the nominating convention will assemble and other political duties press much more urgently for present attention.

By requirement of law Missouri has already entered upon a political campaign of large importance, to culminate next November when the representation of the State in both houses of Congress will be determined by the voice of the electors. One Senator and sixteen Representatives to sit in the lower house must be chosen by the people. It is true that the formal election of the Senator will not occur until the new Assembly of the State convenes next January, but the ballots cast in November will crystallize into a mandate which will leave to the Legislature only perfunctory confirmation of the decision registered by the voters themselves.

This therefore, decides the duty of the hour and establishes the party programme for 1910. To this present duty every thought, effort and resource of Missouri Democrats should be devoted without the distraction that rivalries over Presidential candidacies must inevitably engender. Missouri Democracy can offer more than one eligible candidate for the Presidential nomination, and it is in no wise opportune to force a declaration of its choice so needlessly easy.

At this date the one wise course of all loyal Democrats is to unite in harmony and zeal to poll an old-time Democratic majority next November. Only when this has been accomplished can the matter of choosing a Missouri candidate for the Presidential nomination be wisely undertaken. Today every Democrat should be for that Missourian for President who may be shown to be the popular choice in the regular and orderly way two years hence. That way lies harmony and that way alone.—St. Louis Republic, June 3, 1910.

Free Remedy For Weak Bowels

There are two forms of bodily cleanliness, the external and the internal. The one is for your pride in yourself; the other for your life and health. Both are important, but the latter is more important in the long run.

This is one point that all should watch about their body—the cleanliness of the bowels. Keep them clean and free from obstructions. To do this you must have one or two movements of the bowels each twenty-four hours. If your system does not do this naturally, in the process of eating and drinking, then you must obtain aid of some kind. After flushing out that cathartic, salt and soda which relieve you for a day, but bind you up worse than ever the next day, then try a simpler and more natural remedy—Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

For the skeptical the best way to begin is to send your name and address to Dr. Caldwell for a free sample bottle. Use it as directed and if it convinces you that a brief continuance of its use will relieve you permanently—that it will train the stomach and bowel muscles to again work naturally at certain hours—then buy it of your druggist at fifty cents and one dollar a bottle, just as so many others are doing. They began with a sample bottle, then bought a fifty-cent bottle, and now, fully convinced of its merits, they buy the one dollar family size. All the members of the family can use it down to the very youngest.

A brief use of this grand laxative tonic will cure constipation in its worst form, indigestion, liver trouble, sick headache, sour stomach and such ailments and keep you in continuous good health at a very small cost. Such is the experience of many families like that of Mrs. Great Fleener, Unionville, Ind. J. F. Daniel, Saron, Tex., and hundreds of others that could be named.

Dr. Caldwell personally will be pleased to give you any medical advice you may desire for yourself or family pertaining to the stomach, liver or bowels absolutely free of charge. Explain your case in a letter and he will reply to you in detail. For the free sample simply send your name and address on a postal card or otherwise. For either request the doctor's address is Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 8500 Caldwell building, Monticello, Ill.

Life of Gov. Johnson

The life-story of the "Great Governor of Minnesota" is the most inspiring story of the life of a real man that has been published in this generation.

The late governor was characterized as the most lovable man in public life since the days of Abraham Lincoln, and his biography is instructive, inspirational and thrilling.

The "Life" was published by authority of the widow, and in her benefit. The authors and publishers were intimate friends of the late governor, one of them, Mr. Day, being his private secretary.

The book contains 430 type pages and 22 pages of illustrations, or 452 pages all told, and is a perfect specimen of the best printing and binding.
